

Cornell Cooperative Extension Essex County

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Join CCE Essex County in this dynamic new role, Local Food Educator, to educate youth through the Farm to School and Power of Produce Club programs. If you're interested in an active position that combines hands-on learning during the school year and educational outreach at farmer's markets in the summer, apply today.

- Excite youth about local agriculture, improve food access and nutrition, and enrich school learning through science, technology, engineering, arts, and math (STEAM) lessons.
- Educate our community about the importance of supporting local agricultural businesses, and encouraging individuals to eat local, fresh food from our farmers.
- Collaborate with regional experts on developing local food guides and calendars.

Our Local Food Educator will have a lasting impact supporting local food systems, local food access, healthy eating, and community opportunities for youth and families!

Or join our CCE Essex team for a fun, seasonal summer position serving as the Power of Produce (POP) Club Educator at 4 area farmers' markets. The Power of Produce (POP) Club is a free kids' program that offers engaging hands-on activities and a chance for kids to taste and engage with local produce. Past years of the POP Club program have featured topics ranging from nutrition to pollination to composting and have impacted over 350 kids throughout the season. This position will implement local food curricula through different formats like one-on-one teaching, group classes, and workshops. Apply today to make an impact on area youth and their families!
